

Devon Prep Qualifications

Due to the popularity of the program and limited space, priority goes to offspring of stallions currently standing at Hilltop Farm. If there are still openings available, we are happy to consider client horses from other sires.

For Hilltop to handle your horse at Devon, we must have handled your horse in the Devon Prep Program, at previous shows, or in handling training sessions. We do not handle colts over the age of two.

What to Bring for your Horse:

- Show halter & shank (if horse is under 3)
- Show bridle (if horse is over 3)
- Individually packed grain bags
- Any medications/supplements with instructions
- Coggins
- Health certificate (if out of state)

Greetings Hilltop Farm Breeders!

We are pleased to announce our annual Devon Prep Program for 2010. As a support to breeders and owners of offspring by stallions under Hilltop Farm's management, we are once again offering both a Devon Prep Program, scheduled for September 20 - 27, as well as handling services and daily horse care during the show. Acceptance is limited and will fill quickly, so please return your reservation form to guarantee your space.

Dressage at Devon is one of the most prestigious breeding shows in the U.S. It is always an exciting time when breeders from across the country come together to show their offspring. Hilltop Farm always has a strong presence and we look forward to sharing this experience with you.

Entry forms for the show can be found online at www.dressageatdevon.org beginning in May. Please be sure to request stabling with "Hilltop Farm" on the entry form and list "Hilltop Handlers" on the handler name. Horses being handled by Hilltop Farm will all be stabled together at Devon.

Devon Prep Schedule

Sunday, Sept 19th:

Horses arrive at Hilltop Farm to begin Devon preparation.

The week's activities will include

- One or two training sessions daily
- Individual daily turnout
- Clipping, mane pulling, and bathing
- Additional exercise as needed

The staff at Hilltop Farm works hard to prepare your horse in every aspect. Your young horse will learn how to be presented on the triangle and stand correctly for show. The time away from home will build confidence in your young horse prior to entering the show environment. Of course, establishing a solid handling program at home prior to their arrival for the Devon Prep Program will help ensure a smooth transition into the program.

Monday, Sept 27th:

Horses leave for Devon

Dressage at Devon Schedule

Tuesday, Sept 28th: Young Horse Classes & Championships, USDF East Coast Young Horse Championships
